METHOD OF ORDAINING
A man must be called of God, by prophecy, and BY THE LAYING ON OF HANDS, by those who are in authority to preach the Gospel and administer in the ordinances thereof.

The Twelve Apostles were blessed and ordinations confirmed under the hands of the First Presidency.

THE BAPTISM OF JESUS

The Christ acknowledged authority held by John the Baptist—bearer of the Aaronic priesthood. (Matt. 3:13-15)

Judson A. Tolman, my uncle, had to break the ice when he baptized me. Howard (his son) said there was a small reservoir below a ditch on his father's place and they cut the ice to baptize him--and it must have been where I was Baptized also, as Rev. they had to cut the ice to baptize me.

They also had a font made of wood and let water in it from the ditch above.

Baptized 2nd December 1900

THE NAMEY (YANCEY) ARM.

On a gold shield a lion in the blue facing to the left, rampant. No motto or crest showing evidence of great age. Being used by a Welsh Chief in battle for the identification of himself and his followers.

Portions were taken arbitrarily by families and the lack of one means nothing.

A member of the Shepard family, Miss Annie Shepard, living in Buchanan County, Virginia, age 50, inherited from her mother, whose maiden name was Yancey, the Namey Arms.

(The above was taken from the Carraway MS.)

Yancey

translation of Motto: "TOUCH NOT THE CAT WITHOUT THE GLOVE."

A Short Sketch of the Life of my Father, Adam Yancey and of my Mother, Alice Tolman--by Alice Yancey

Adam Yancey was the son of Hiram John Yancey, Jr. and Harriet Wood. He was born 6 April 1859 in Bountiful, Davis Co., Utah. His father left home before Adam was born, taking his two-year old brother with him--see Hiram John, Sr. Sheet--and never returned.

His mother, Harriet lived with her folks while Adam was small and later married a Captain John Brown of Ogden, who was accidentally killed sometime afterwards.

After the death of Capt. Brown, Adam lived most of the time with the family of John Moss--Rebecca, his wife being a sister to Harriet, and their children were just like brothers and sisters to him.

When at school the boys used to tease Adam telling him that his name was not Brown. One day he got into a fight about it and when he went home his mother told him about his real father.

Later Harriet married a Mr. Lewis and lived with him until her death in 1871--Adam was then twelve years of age.

Adam herded sheep a great deal when a young man and also learned something about carpentering. While herding sheep he started to use tobacco, but said that at a conference he attended in Salt Lake City one of the speakers said "Boys do not use tobacco as it is harmful". He went home and never used it again.

It was when he was at a dance in Bountiful either the 4th or 24th of July that he met Alice Tolman and they were married 2 October 1879, in the Old Endowment House in Salt Lake City--riding to Salt Lake in a wagon and team owned by Adam. They then lived in Bountiful in a two-room rock house near Daniel Wood--Joseph and Inez Wood were their neighbors. Their first child, Adam Adonnirum, was born here--Alice being only seventeen years of age at the time.

Adam Yancey

Alice Tolman

Alice Tolman was the daughter of Judson Tolman and Sarah Lucretia Holbrook. She was born 29 August 1863 at Bountiful, Utah--She was the 11th child in a family of fourteen children.

In 1848 her parents came across the plains to Utah--(See Judson Tolman Sheet)--one child being buried on the way.

Her mother died at the age of thirty-seven and Alice remembers of helping her foster-mother (Aunt Jane) take care of the children while they were young, but she lived most of the time with her sister, Sarah Mabey and family. She states "My sister with whom I lived a great deal was the same as a mother to me and her children seemed like my own. I remember very little about my mother as she died when I was a little more than five years old."

"I did not know my sister, Nancy and her children so well but learned to love them just as I did Sarah and family. I remember as a girl of the good times Kate or Catherine and I had. Kate was just two years older than myself.

"I remember of being re-baptized and it sure thrilled me. I also remember going to school and getting a whipping. I did not cry at the time, but had a good cry when I got home.

"I had to go to school bare-footed most of the time. My father had a molasses mill where he made molasses. I would take his dinner to him when he was cutting grain with a scythe. I also remember my step-grand mother, Hannah Flint Holbrook and of going to see my grandfather, Joseph Holbrook and of his death.

"We used to have cutting Bees when we would gather fifteen or twenty bushel of peaches in a pile. Then we would ask boys and girls to come and help cut them. The next morning, we would have to spread them on the scaffold made of lumber all turned right side up. After we were thru cutting, we usually had lunch and that is how we got our peaches dried."

The Married life of Adam Yancey and Alice Tolman

While in Bountiful Adam and Daniel Wood went in together and bought the Durham place in West Bountiful and lived there for a while. Then within a year or two Add Tolman (brother of Alice Tolman) decided to move to Idaho so they sold their share of the Durham place to Daniel Wood and moved to Idaho.

The following history is in mother's words:

"There was a Saw Mill at Bancroft at which Adam worked part of the time. In the fall we moved to Chesterfield about ten miles north of where my brother and his wife had settled. Chesterfield was named after Chester Call who had been called by Brigham Young to persuade a dozen young couples to go with him to Idaho.

It was here in Chesterfield that our second child, Orval, was born 12 Sept. 1882. I just had my neighbors to help me, Mary Call and Della Tolman. Something was wrong so Adam had to take a team and wagon and go ten miles for a lady doctor. Then I got along all right.

During our first year in Chesterfield, we lived in a slope made of slabs. The second year Adam built a one room log house, 16 x 20 and plastered it inside and out. Later Adam built a two-story frame building with five rooms and a large pantry. On the front was a large porch with a railing around so we could go on to the porch and look over the country from upstairs. It was one of the best homes in Chesterfield at that time.

We had two good wells which Adam had dug by hand, and we had to draw all the water up in buckets for the stock as well as for ourselves. Later we bought pumps which were much better. We had a large barn, cistern, cellar and other buildings.

Adonirum was born in Bountiful and all the rest of our fourteen children were born in this house except William, Sarah and Elizabeth who were born in Blackfoot, Idaho. They were:

Orval	Alice
James	Daniel
Emron	Sylvia May
Bertha Lucretia	Mary
Cyrus	Nathan Orley

Mary died when six weeks old from Whooping Cough.

After our younger children were in school, we took two children to adopt, Ruth a baby of six weeks and a boy about the same age as Sarah from the Children's Home, but there was so much friction between him and the younger children, that he was given to other people who adopted him.

We kept Ruth who was born in a Blackfoot hospital March 1916. When she was about three years old, we went down to Logan to have our Second Endowments and to have Ruth sealed to us. Alice had bought Ruth a nice little brown coat and hood to wear on the trip and on the way down somewhere between Blackfoot and Pocatello, some woman made quite a fuss over Ruth and had her take the coat off, then when we wanted to put it on her, it was gone--we had to go buy another for her. We felt so bad because Alice had paid $6.00 for it.

It was surely cold in Chesterfield, I remember Adam taking the cattle to the hills where the snow had gone. Adam became snow blind a time or two when being out in the snow--or that is what we thought it was. I remember one storm when the snow rolled up just like rolls of cotton. It was a pretty sight.

There was a lot of wild game in the country at that time which we were able to get and it helped give us variety in our food. Our buildings were made from lumber and it was so cold, it would pop and snap.

We went to Bountiful a time or two in our light spring wagon. We called it the "Red Wagon" as it was painted red. When we were first married, we had one cow but would sell the butter and eat bread and white gravy. We always had plenty to eat but not much variety. Later when we had plenty of milk and butter, I would set a pan of clabber milk on a box or chair and give the children a spoon and how they did enjoy it.

When we moved to Blackfoot, we were milking forty cows. At one time in Chesterfield we made seventy pounds of butter a week and I would set the milk in pans. Most of the time we did not get to bed until twelve o'clock at night. Adam would work all day and then come home and would have to get the cows, and by the time the milking was done, it would be late--the wind blowing and snow drifting. The drifts were sometimes as high as the house but we always had plenty of good wood to keep warm by.

We had home-made carpets when we could afford them. Adam was always improving and building something and got out most of the timber himself. He also helped build the meeting house and school house in Chesterfield.

There was no Ward organization at that time, but I remember Adam baptizing a number of children then afterwards a ward was organized. We used to hold our fast days mostly on Thursdays. We were among the first families to move to Chesterfield. Our closest neighbors were the Nels Hogan family, the Fred Bergeson Family, and a family by the name of Balfour. We had to go about three miles to Church and Sunday School and would go in our "Red Wagon" and in sleighs in the winter. Sometimes the snow would be so deep we could go right over the fences and all and not stop for anything.

I was an officer in the M.I.A. and counselor in the Relief Society to Sister Sarah Call, but was released when we moved to Blackfoot. Adam was called on a mission in July 1895 as also was my brother, Lamoni--the Southern States Mission. It was hard to see him go but the boys were more help now. He was only able to stay about six months as he took sick with chills and fever soon after arriving in Texas and could not get it out of his system, so was released to come home.

Our first child, Adam A'onnirum, was killed when he was twelve years old by being thrown from a horse. He had gone after the cows and on the way caught one of the neighbor's horses along with a Bergeson boy who had a horse. They were just a little way from home when he was thrown from the horse. He got up and walked home, and I washed him off and he said, "Ma I don't think I can milk to-night." So I said he didn't have to and put him to bed. He went to sleep and just woke up once and said, "O, my eyes," We did not go to bed, but sent for the Elders and had him administered to. Then the next morning I left him to get breakfast, and when I went back into the room, he was dead which was about 8'0'clock in the morning.

When our little girl died, I was holding her in my lap and was all alone. She went into convulsion after convulsion. She was born right when we had the whooping cough, and had I known would have been more careful. So our two children are buried there in Chesterfield.

In the Fall of 1901, our crop of 300 acres was a total failure. One of the men of the Ward, Brother Nels Sorenson, had been over to Blackfoot and bought hay and then later moved there. Adam went to Blackfoot to buy hay because we were milking 40 head of cows and had to have hay.

When we first went to Chesterfield, we had enough water for our ground but it got so scarce that by the time it got down to us, our turn was up, and we could hardly raise a garden, and the frosts were bad too.

While in Blackfoot, Adam bought 300 acres of land about $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles west and north of Blackfoot. Quite a lot of the land was in hay and much of it was sagebrush land. We gave \$7,000 for the place. Adam got a mortgage on our place in Chesterfield to make the first payment of one thousand dollars. That was all we ever got as the parties took out bankruptcy. We had to sell most of our stock to pay for our place.

LEAVING CHESTERFIELD

In October 1901 we moved to Blackfoot--I drove one team with Orley on the seat by me. He was one year old then. Maybe you don't think it wasn't hard to leave Chesterfield. We went to Blackfoot when there were only a few people in that section of the country and have lived there ever since.

The ranch we bought in Blackfoot belonged to Geo. Baumgartner. We had the boys to help and plenty of water and put up lots of hay and got along all right by being careful. The first summer we were in Blackfoot, we raised every kind of fruit and vegetable, water melons etc. It surely seemed good to have what we could eat out of our garden as well as all the fruit we needed--raspberries, gooseberries and fruit trees were on the place.

There was a three-room house on the place and brother and Sister Andrew Jensen lived in it, so Adam built two more rooms on. We had quite a family--nine children, Orley being only one year old. It was certainly a great change for us to come here--the first winter we were there, we plowed all winter which was quite different from the long, cold winters at Chesterfield. Also while we lived at Chesterfield, I knit stockings for all the children but when we moved to Blackfoot, they would not wear them.

While in Chesterfield we had a large seventy gallon churn, and I remember the lid coming off once and the cream went all over the floor. Don't remember how long we kept this churn but think after a year or two at Blackfoot we sold most of the cows and the churn was used to haul water in. The boys were older, and we put up lots of hay. Adam also cleared, with the boys helping, the sagebrush from about 100 acres of land and then we put in seven acres of orchard--100 cherry trees and a few pears and plums, and the rest in apples, also a big raspberry patch.

Adam took great pride in growing trees, but not much sale for the fruit--thousands of bushels went to waste. He took many a load to Pocatello and peddled them. One summer the cherrie trees were just loaded, & it rained and rained until they all burst and many went to waste. We finally got a Cider Mill and made lots of cider Vinegar. X

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

When we first moved to Blackfoot, we went to the Riverside and Moreland Ward to Church for the first year or two. The only way we had to go was with buggy and horse. I remember how I used to take the sisters in our buggy and drive the horse with a baby in my arms. A year or two later, President of the Stake, Elias S. Kimbal, and others came and asked Adam to cut up his farm into lots which he did, and we had to sign quite a few deeds. This helped to pay for the place and in 1904 we had a new brick house built with twelve rooms and very often had twenty or more people staying with us.

Adam first acted as Presiding Elder and then later was sustained as Bishop and the Ward was named Groveland Ward as that was the name of the School District. He was put in Bishop in 1903 and was Bishop for twelve years when he was released on account of his health and failing eyesight.

In July 1915, Father went with Pres. James Duckworth on the Genealogical "Special Train" to San Francisco to attend the International Congress of Genealogy held in connection with the Panama Pacific International Exhibition. Father's heart trouble gradually grew worse and he died September 15, 1920. James made the coffin in which he was laid away and also the Marker for the Grave.

When the Meeting House was built, Adam and the boys did a lot of the carpenter work and also built a tithing cellar.

We went to San Francisco in 1912 to the World's Fair, taking Orley with us. We enjoyed seeing the sights and also went on to San Diego, California.

I was President of the Relief Society from May 1902 until June, 1919. I also served on the Relief Society Stake War Mothers from about Board as second counselor, and then first counselor from Nov. 1914 to August 1923. I was President of the War Mothers from about 1917 to 1920, and while I held this position, we (War Mothers) went on a trip to visit the War Mothers out at Salmon and Mackay and had a very nice time.

WORLD WAR NO. 1: In 1917 Cyrus enlisted being sent into the Marines. Later Daniel also went. They were both gone one year. Syrus was wounded very badly. The doctors did not think for a minute he would live, but he did, and after he came home the Government sent him to school--he specialized in Accounting and worked at that profession all during rest of his life.

When Orley was born I wrote to my Father (Judson Tolman) and asked him for a name. He sent me the name of Nathan Orley, and as I liked it, the name was used.

Orley went on a mission and it was while he was gone that Adam took sick and died. Then the winter after Adam died, I took a man to room and board--he was a cripple, but he helped me to take care of Ruth, while I did the milking and the chores. That winter was hard for me because we had to get the money to send Orley, but managed for a while, then he was released to come home.

Father was sort of a quiet man of few words, but when he spoke, he usually said something. He always stopped work so as to have his meals on time. He would stop work soon after 5:30 so as to be in for supper at 6 O'clock and always kept things neat and in good repair."

This ends mother's story, as she told it.

The following is a statement from Berthe Yancey Jensen:

"In the 22 years after Father's death mother lived alone and life was hard for her. She had the worry of the younger children and Ruth was only a little more than four years old. Father had always taken the responsibility in a financial way which made it harder for her. Then with all this, she suffered most of the latter years with Diabetes, and because of this, she was determined to live alone in two of the rooms of the old home, altho there were renters in other part of the house.

Daniel was her main stay for a few years until he had to go to the hospital and the shock of both Sylvia's and his death was a terrible blow as she had leaned much on them both. During these years, William went on a mission to England. She visited around with some of the children, going to Los Angeles two or three times to visit with Alice and Ruth and then to Pocatello with Sylvia and Jared and then a few days at a time with the other children.

I took her out to Tabiona where her daughter, Sara White lived--this was the summer before she died, and she enjoyed the trip very much. She also wanted to go to Los Angeles again but we were not able to get away.

She must have passed away without warning during the night as she was found sitting in a chair and had been taking care of her swollen feet. Death came to her on the morning of October 11, 1942.

'To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die.'

As a Tribute to Father, one of the older Residents of Groveland, Idaho, Thomas G. Bond, wrote the following Poem:

PA YANCEY

Did you ever meet Pa Yancey
Back thar in the sagebrush days,
Came with a parcel of neighbors,
And settled in the Groveland Ward.

Pa was a man with a placid mind,
Never hurried or worried, or hasty like,
Counted his days as all well spent,
If he only did just one thing well.

Pa built his house as I recall,
Beside the road near the Groveland hall,
Jest like Pa Yancey that house was,
Large and tall and square like.

Pa, did things jest sorter queer,
Planted trees along the road, scads of 'em,
And vines and flowers and orchard,
Needs sech things for a home, Pa said.

Bishop is whāt they callēd him,
Up thar in the Groveland Ward,
Don't know much about sech things
Didn't seem to effect Pa at all.

Pa was a curious Bishop,
Didn't seem to rare and tare
Or go into transports all shivery like,
And try to convert us all.

He lived right down among us,
With his plows and stock and little deeds,
Covered up most of these deeds was
Pa kinda blushed if he thot you knew.

As a Tribute to Mother, Mr. Bond also wrote the following Poem which fittingly portrays her life:

THE MINISTERING ANGEL

Ma Yancey lived in the Groveland Ward
A little old lady with a placid face,
Guess jest the fact of her living thar all these years
Sorter grayed her hair an furrowed her cheek.

Angels jest don't happen, grandad said,
They're made in a furnace of toil and pain,
Sittin' by beds where children lie gaspin'
An' the fever a runnin' an' a scorchin'.

Pain wracked bodies a moanin' the night time
An' lives jest a hangin' by a thread
With cool hands soft and carressin' thar,
A puttin' cold things to your head.

The ministerin' angel is alus there,
When the cupboard is empty an' hearts in despair,
With a cheerin' word and a loaf of bread,
Though oftimes it drains her scanty store,

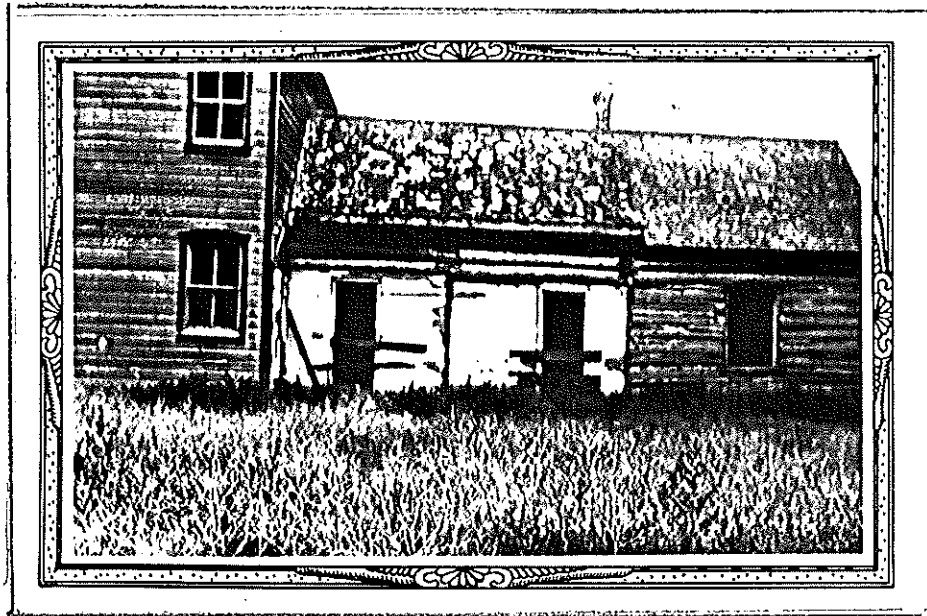

It's only perchance by a flower draped bier,
An' the air all hushed and a-wisperin' like,
And a mist comes over our blinded eyes,
We hear a rustlin' as it were, the wings of an angel lyin' thar.

(Written about 1935 by Thomas G. Bond)

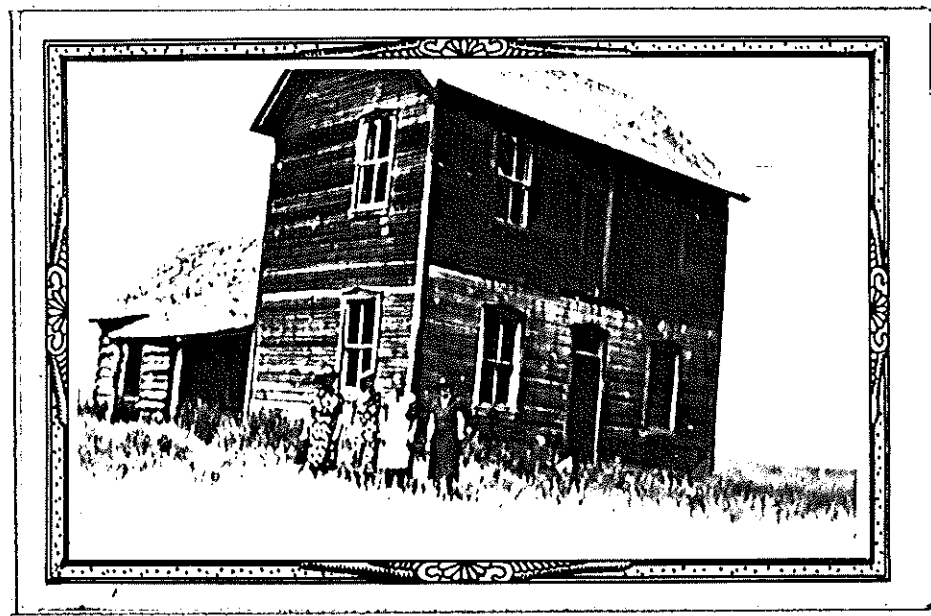

pa took his religion serious like
Believed in feeding the poor sted of preaching,
A helpin' hand with the plowin', when a man is sick,
Is more than half of religion, Pa said.

Tain't the prayin' and long black coats,
As riles the devil an his angels,
It's seein' preachers livin' like us common folks,
And sharin' our troubles and temptations.

Some Memories of Our Home in Chesterfield, Idaho
By Alice and James Yancey and Bertha Y. Jensen

When mother and father moved to Idaho (from Bountiful, Utah), they lived in Bancroft for awhile in a Slope that dad built--He worked in Bancroft part time at a Saw Mill.

Later they moved to Chesterfield (this place being named after Chester Call who had been called by Brigham Young to settle here) and they lived here in another Slope made out of slabs, for another year.

The second year dad built a one room log house, 16 x 20 and plastered it inside and out--later these rooms were used for a pantry. There was a cellar close by where the milk was kept until it could be taken to town and ^{also where the} butter churned. They milked up to 40 cows.

There was a well near the house--Bertha remembers spending a lot of time hauling the water up in the buckets--it had two wooden buckets run with pulleys.

James remembers when the cat fell in the well and dad took one of the buckets and put a piece of meat in it, then let the bucket down into the well and pulled the cat up in it.

As the family grew in numbers, the Log House became too small so dad built a two-story frame building with five rooms and a large pantry. In front was a large porch supported by four posts, like the porch on our brick house in Groveland, and there was a railing around it. We used this porch a lot as it gave us a good view of the surrounding country.

James speaks of the home being remodeled so I don't know whether he meant when the five rooms were built or later. Anyway, dad hired a man to work on it and had to go to Preston, Utah to get him and then take him home when he was through. His name was Wilcox and it took him three weeks to do the work and his pay was $2.50 a day with room and board. James said he was always watching this man work. Most all of the inside was plastered with lime plaster and James said that John Dean's brother painted the house yellow.

This is a front view of the House--the porch has been all torn off and the building practically falling to pieces--certainly not the place it was when we lived in it. In fact, when dad built the house, it was one of the finest in the country at that time.

While visiting at Bertha's at Blackfoot, Idaho in June 1950, Emron and Dorothy went to Chesterfield in their car, and Bertha and I went along--Olive Hogan is here with us too

We took the two pictures of the old Home where we used to live--almost 50 years from the time we left Chesterfield. The people who owned the place just used the house to store wheat in.

This picture shows the two older houses that were built first.

ADAM ADONNIRUM YANCY.

Lines affectionately Subscribed to Sister Alice Yancy, on the death of her Son by a Loving Friend.

I thought, dear Sister, on that sad day

When your darling boy you laid away,

That I would truly write you a line

As soon as I possibly could find time.

My heart did ache for your sorrow then,

And its aching now as I take my pen;

For I know your heart is heavy and sore.

And yearns for the one on the other shore.

I know you will miss his kindly face

And long to enfold him in fond embrace.

You will sadly look at his empty chair,

And think of the loved one who once sat there.

There's a vacant place that none can fill,

And often you'll think you see him still;

For a mother cannot forget her boy . . .

In death or in sorrow, pleasure or joy.

But God is good. He knows what is best

For his children here and He sends the test.

He will try his people in every way,

To see if we'll stand the trying day.

For whom He loveth he will chastise,

But in all these things he is loving and wise.

For after our trials are blessings if we Could look beyond and the future see.

So look up, Dear Sister, put your trust in God

While passing beneath affliction's rod.

For He alone can sweet comfort send

In the time of sorrow is the surest friend.

May you have His spirit by night and day,

And your husband too, I sincerely pray,

With your children dear, may they live long,

Be bright and happy, healthy and strong.

So do not grieve for the one now gone,

For he is in a far brighter home.

From sin and sorrow he is set free,

And he is as happy a happy can be.

Now please accept the lines I send.

As a token of sympathy from a friend.

May the Lord remove from your heart the pain,

In the place thereof and you peace again.

H. J. HIGGINSON.

Joseph F. Jensen Family In Rey

Saturday was celebrated by afternoon with the Jensen family when 100 of the family gathered in Groveland at the Joseph F. Jensen home on the lawn and celebrated their coming to Idaho 50 years ago. It was also the birthday anniversary of their grandmother, Annie M. Jensen, William J. Kotter of Brigham City and others spoke of their memories of her.

Andrew C. Jensen Jr., from Salt Lake City told of their early day experiences in Idaho when they came in 1898.

Mrs. Nora Neilsen of Hyrum, Utah, (the hometown of the Jensen family) gave a few closing remarks about her association with the family. Joseph F. Jensen was master of ceremonies and directed the activities of the day.

Preceding the party, the Joseph F. Jensen family entertained at a fully dinner Friday

Snap-shot of the Lava Beds which lie north of Groveland and from which wood for fuel was gathered for many years,

Jack rabbit drive in the olden days brought thousands of the long-eared to undug graves. It is still effective in some of the great open spaces.

The rabbits were so numerous the settlers had to find a way to exterminate them to save their crops. They had rabbit drives and would make a large enclosure of net wire open on one side. Men on foot and horseback would drive them into these places by the hundreds. One of the largest drives held in Groveland was about where the northwest corner of the C.A. Burton place is now located and about 5000 rabbits were killed then.
