Published by the Culpeper Historical Society, Inc., Culpeper, Virginia, 1976.

(Jackson County, Missouri)

It would appear probable that Morgan Pitcher, husband of Henrietta Noland, both of Estill County, Kentucky, was a descendant of the Pitchers, John or Thomas, of Culpeper County, Virginia. It is recalled that Elizabeth Pitcher, daughter of Morgan Pitcher and Henrietta (Noland) Pitcher, married Henry Noland, who went from Madison County, Kentucky, to Jackson County, Missouri, before 1826. In that year, Henry Noland and Elizabeth Pitcher were married in Clay County; their son, Jesse Noland (the first born of their children) was born toward the end of 1826 in Jackson County, Missouri. He was the first male white child born in Jackson County, Missouri, as constituted. He married Nancy Ann Smallwood, daughter of Elijah Smallwood and Nancy (Benton) Smallwood. The latter were the ancestors of the Mancos, and Saguache, Colorado, Noland.

In a letter, dated April 6, 1975, William Henry Pitcher, of Winter Park, Florida, wrote to William T. Lockett, compiler of this book, as follows:

Pitchers are mentioned in the Visitation of London, but no arms are given. One was Alnager of the City of London, I believe, around 1634. There is a book in the Library of Congress that states that the first of the family came to Brecknockshire, Wales, with the brother of William the Conqueror and lived at Stradowy Castle. This book also states that the line has proven difficult to trace because it produced many daughters but few males. This is still true. My line has produced only sons of only sons ever since coming to Maryland.

I enclose Xerox copies of my line back to Thomas Pitcher of London, who bought land in Anne Arundel County, Md. and died there in 1790. Prior to the Revolution there was a Major Pitcher in Maryland as an agent for the King from 1754-1774. I have always thought he was the father of my ancestor. I have brought my line down to my grandchildren...

My father as a young man saw a "gold" sash that had been given, so the family tradition said, to Admiral Pitcher who is said to have died about 1660, for services to the King. A New England record refers to a girl, Nazareth Pitcher, a descendant of the Admiral. A search of the Admiralty records in the Peabody Library in Baltimore failed to turn up any Pitcher. Many Admirals were created at the time of the Armada and thereafter, however.

There is a family of Pitchers in Broomes Island, Maryland, with similar first names: Thomas, John, et cetera. They came to America a few years after my family and I have never been able to find any blood relationship.

(et cetera)

Note of compiler. The Maryland Pitchers lend another dimension, complicating the search for the roots of the Pitchers. It is believed, however, that the Pitchers of Jackson County, Missouri, probably had their origins in America in Maryland, thence to Virginia, and thence to Kentucky, Missouri, et cetera.

Word has been received by Mrs. Joe Harvey, 1449 Broadway, of the death of her uncle, Dr. O. A. Noland, of Indianapolis, Ind. Dr. Noland, died Tuesday night at the Kirkwood Hotel in that city.

A native Cape Countian, Dr. Noland was born Feb. 16, 1890, in the Indian Creek community, the son of J. W. and Cornelia Noland. He attended the Indian Creek grade school and was graduated from the Normal School, now Southeast Missouri State College, and afterward entered St. Louis University where he was graduated in dentistry. From there he went to La Grange, Mo., where he practiced his profession several years before moving to Spencer, Ind., and later to Bloomington, Ind., where he practiced many years. He retired from dentistry a few years back and devoted his full time to real estate, and it was about that same time that he moved to Indianapolis, where he owned and operated the Kirkwood Hotel.

He won the nomination for Congress several years ago and, although he was defeated in the election, continued to work hard for his party. Later he saw his son, James E. Noland, elected to the United States Congress. He was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention in August of this year, but because of his health was unable to attend. Dr. Noland owned and published the Indiana Democrat at Indianapolis, and owned and published two other Democratic newspapers.

Services for Dr. Noland will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Kirby Funeral Home in Indianapolis with the final rites to be held in Cape Girardeau. The body will arrive here sometime Friday and will be taken to the Haman Funeral Home where the Rev. R. C. Holliday, minister of Centenary Methodist Church, will conduct the last rites at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment will be in Memorial Park Cemetery. Nephews of Dr. Noland will be his pallbearers.

Dr. Noland was one of 12 children, 10 of whom have preceded him in death. They were Walter Noland, Mrs. John McLaughlin, Jesse Noland, Mrs. Eli McDowell, Mrs. Will McDowell, Charles Noland, Preston Noland, Mamie Marie and Amiel Noland and Carl Noland.
