Dear Anville,

Well, your damned little sunt you. To think you've been able to keep your secret that long.
Have you made any further plans yet? I kind of hate to see you get married because it
seems sort of the dividing line between being
kids & grown ups doesn't it?
I suppose I'll take the great step some day too —
if anybody'll have me.
Don't run as bad away, sister.
Just think I'll be 18 on the 27 — just 12 more days!
I can hardly realize it's 18 seems so old & 17 is just right. Not too old & not too young. All my other birthdays have seemed
more or less common place, but this is different.

E exams are this week.

that's snuff for a dozen up here. But hoping I'll get pretty good grades. I got pretty good in mid term & the one I got C+ in I heard I was getting a good grade in, so my hopes are high. I suppose they'll fall as soon as I see the results, tho.
What a life - this world
& the next. Why people go gray. I'm going to go gray just worrying about the worries that make people go gray. As a result my hair'll be
gray & people'll know
I've worried a lot cause
I'll have gone gray.
Muff said.

I have part of my Xmas already. Let Vent
sent me $1.00 wasn't that dear of him? I got

me a new navy-blue sports coat with it. I sure needed a coat. All my others were all
worn out & old-fashioned.
I haven't had a brand new one since I was in the 7th grade nearly.
All my others have been handed down.

There was a Beta party last Fri. I took me off Le Vest's new year party. It's damn cute
too.

The Xmas ball is day after tomorrow & I haven't a date yet. (Another reason why people go gay.) I'm still in hopes of getting there — if I have to take somebody — like fun. Some girls do just about ask a fellow to take them, tho. I wonder how they do it?
It mite not be a bad

formula, in rowar;

I have all my
Xmas presents made.
It surely is a relief.
I'm making Ron & Ellen
a pillow for their apartment. I dressed a doll for Joan. I just love to make things if I have plenty of time;
don't you?

Well, please write
soon. Don't forget to remind Dean again to write. Did you go to Brynau? I wish I could have but it
costs quite a lot.

your wife & kids
better if you
supper if you want
to. I sent Phil
sent you a card.

I sure like to be
at your wedding.
Wouldn't it be golly? But I guess that's too good to be true.
