Notes for THOMAS COLE, SR.:

Kelly Green stated that Thomas Cole, Sr., was born in about 1695 in Baltimore County, Md. Kelly did not show Thomas Cole, Sr's marriage to Mary Richardson, and included Thomas, Jr., as the first of eight children of Thomas and Sarah, who maiden name is unknown.

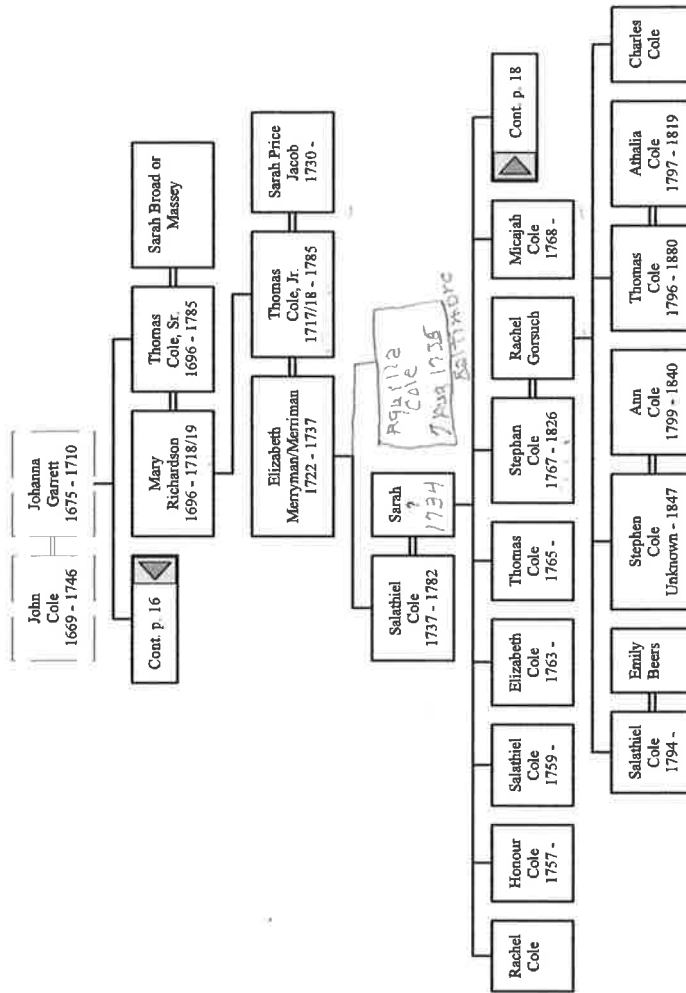

It was further noted from the page of Steven A. Wolfe that "Thomas in 1725 surveyed 100 acres Christopher's Lot between Jan. 9, 1726, and March 6, 1733/34 obtained portions of Levy's Tribe and Green's Chance in 1750, owned 100 acres Christopher's lot and 50 acres Thomas'
Lot in 1781 conveyed to son Christopher tracts of Christopher's Lot and lease of Mountain"

Hello Bob;

I am assuming that you go by "Bob" since you signed it in brackets in your last letter. If that is incorrect please advise. Can I presume that your e-mail address of 59 is the year you were born? If so you are the same age as my youngest child, Susan. I have 5 children: Kathie 1950, Jean Ann 1951, David 1952, Daniel 1954 and Susan in 1958.

Yes, Ron (cousin) had mentioned that when he visited the "archeological dig" of the Cole homestead that the Lawrenceburg city wastewater treatment plant was located there on the property. Professor Andrew Madsen reported on it also and felt sad that it was located between the cemetery and Hammonds Creek, thus obscuring the beauty of the Creek that he felt had been there when Elijah and his family lived on the property. It is a plus that the employees maintain the cemetery so well. So many old cemeteries are not and soon fall into disrepair. I was so glad to see that the Hinman Cemetery out in Pike County, where Elijah and Sarah (Hill) Cole are buried along with many of their family, is well maintained. It is waaaaaaaay out in the country, so was surprised it is maintained so nicely. I drove for 5-6 miles through corn and soybean fields, around a beautiful woodland and wetlands area, before finally coming to that cemetery. There are no homes, barns, or any other buildings near it for several miles. It's just out there alone and along a country road.

Your researcher is correct that Acquilla Cole b. 1780, was a brother to Elijah, Sr., and they were sons of Salathiel Cole b. 1737 d. 1782 and his wife Sarah ? (maiden name unknown). We have the spelling of Acquilla Cole with a "c" after the "A", which may, or may not, be correct, but is how we have it recorded.

There are 10 children in this family: To make it easier for you let me list them as we have them in birth order:

Rachel Cole	b. ?????
Honour Cole	b. 1757
Salathiel Cole	b. 1759
Elizabeth Cole	b. 1763
Thomas Cole	b. 1765
Stephen Cole	b. 1767	d. 1836	m. Rachel Gorsuch	b. ?????	d. ?????
Micajah Cole	b. 1768
Elijah Cole, Sr.	b. 1769	d. 1846	m. Martha (Patsey) Phillips	b. 1770	d. 1830
Acquilla Cole	b. 1780

Because there is an 11 year break between the births of Elijah and Acquilla there is a possibility that there could be other children born during that interval period of time. However, this is all that we have been able to document.

Later in the genealogy I find your grandfather, William Burton Cole (1881 - 1982) listed and also your great grandfather, John William Cole (1860 - 1924) and your great grandmother Annie R. Bond (1862 - 1948).

Yes, you are correct, you and I are both descend from Elijah and wife Sarah (Hill) Cole. My great grandfather is one of Elijah and Sarah Cole's sons; He is: Samuel M. Cole (1838 - 1923) and wife Mary Catherine McGuire (1838 - 1884). After Catherine's death he remarried: Lucia H. (Pipher) Hill (1842 - 1911). We have some data on Lucia that Jim (cousin) found at the Salt Lake City Mormon Library.

Now, let me get back to your questions. Yes, they migrated to Anderson County, KY, from Baltimore, Maryland area. They did stop off in Xenia, Greene County, Ohio for a period of time as that is where Elijah met and married Sarah Hill. Some, and maybe all of their children, not sure on that yet, were born there. One researcher has that one of the children was born in Greene County, IN. However, I think that is a mistake. I think it should be Greene County, Ohio. Xenia is in the southwest corner of

Saturday, September 29, 2012 AOL: ButterflyLady100

Ohio. In fact Xenia is the town that back in the 40's or 50's, was totally destroyed by a tornado. My Mom used to talk about that. But, the town was completely rebuilt and exists today.

Do you have any notes of where Elijah's siblings immigrated to after leaving Anderson county? Pike County, where Elijah migrated to from Ohio is directly west from Indianapolis, IN. Following I-40 west I went through Piatt County, IL, where my great grandfather Samuel M. Cole immigrated to from Pike County. My grandfather, John Benton Cole and his siblings were born in Bement, Piatt County, IL.

In Bement there is a cottage located that Abraham Lincoln slept in the night before his debate with Douglas. The cottage is on the town square, and now is a National Memorial and it sits beside of the Town Park.....back then I guess every town had a Park. Out on the state highway, 6 miles north of town, on the way to Monticello is a Memorial Plaque commemorating the place where "HERE ON JULY 29, 1858 ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS FIRST AGREED TO MEET IN JOINT DEBATE IN ILLINOIS". They were both on their horses and stopped there to discuss a debate....remember the Lincoln/Douglas debate? Did you study that in school? Or have they taken that out of the textbooks when you were in school?

Just two miles north of Bement is a large, well maintained cemetery founded in 1866 and still in use today. My great grandparents, Samuel M. and Catherine (McGuire) Cole are buried there. I found a number of other Cole family members buried there, Samuel's son Joshua E. Cole (he is my great uncle, grandpa's brother) is and other Cole's are buried also in the Monticello cemetery. Monticello is next town north of Bement. These two towns are 7 miles apart. Monticello is only a mile or two south of I-40 as I was going west through Piatt County. I have researched a lot of the Cole/Medaris/Lux family members buried in the Monticello cemetery. But, maybe some of Elijah's siblings are buried in the Bement cemetery?

Yes, Elijah, Jr., owned a substantial amount of land in both Kentucky and Illinois. Ron and I found that some of Elijah's land came through a "land grant" from the government and if my memory is correct he received some of it as a result of serving in the military. Ron and I have talked about that and wondered how we could go about trying to find out more on this subject. How much land did he receive? I know we have both read at one time of how much he received for how much time served. But, I don't have much data on that right now. Maybe Ron has researched that further.....I may contact him to find out.

I have a large number of photos of these places where I have done research and would be happy to share some important ones with you if I had your mailing address.

Oh, before I forget it, ancestor is Humphrey Cole (1573 - 1624) was born in Ipswich, Suffolk, England and died in England; his wife was Mary Mott (b & d. in England)

Let me digress here and copy some information shared back in 2003 by another Cole researcher.

Immigrated to Baltimore County, MD to an area named for them: Cole's (Coale) Harbor
According to the book, "British Roots of Maryland Families", written by Robert W. Barnes, published in 1999, the parents of John Cole (1669-1746) are: John Cole (abt. 1635-1705) and Mary Beedle; his grandparents are William Cole (b. abt 1598 in England) and Frances ?; and his great grandparents are Humphrey Cole (b. Ipswich, Suffolk, England, d. abt 1624 in England) and Mary Mott (b&d in England). The book shows Thomas Cole as being a son of Humphrey and a brother of William, therefore a great granduncle of John Cole (1669-1746).
